

Fiduciary services and proxies

At Seegman we are used to working at the pace of transactions with a diversity of parties and jurisdictions, providing support to our clients and their advisors, representing them both internally (board of directors and shareholders' meeting), as well as in the execution of commercial operations in which you need proxy representation.

Our client's profile is mainly international, so we understand the value of having proxies or trusted representatives who can execute instructions through powers of attorney and make the necessary reporting in coordination with your local advisors. Among our services we can highlight:

• FIDUCIARY SERVICES

We hold positions on the board of directors of commercial companies, acting as directors, board members or secretaries.

Proxy holders: We represent our clients' interests, following instructions and contributing with our vision and local knowledge, in shareholders' meetings or committees of which our clients are members.
